You say that I am King.

John 18.33b-37

The classic religious rock opera Jesus Christ Superstar, continues to be performed on stages around the country. During Holy Week many of us find ourselves putting on the album or humming some of the music. What has always struck me is the portrayal of Pontius Pilate. The actor who created the original album role went on to portray Pilate on Broadway and on film.

Pilate is interested--for his own reasons--in the accusation that Jesus claims to be King of the Jews. There is a peculiar intimacy in the scene--captured well, I think, in the musical. Pilate can relate to the concept of kingship. He's a politician and understands power and position. He presses his questions even as he misunderstands Jesus' true kingship. For a brief instant Pilate even seems interested in "truth." But in the end he falls back into his own limited notions of earthly power, and does what is expected of him as a functionary in the Roman system of government.

With dramatic irony however, the scene in John's Gospel highlights a very different kind of kingship. Jesus stands before the world testifying to the truth. He has come to reveal the truth about God and invites us into his reign, which is not of this world. Rather it is a relationship--one in which we receive the very life of God.

Indigenous Representatives to meet with Pope Francis in December

From December 17-20, 2021, Pope Francis will meet with a delegation of 25-30 First Nations, Inuit, and Métis Elders, knowledge keepers, residential school survivors, and youth. The delegation will be accompanied by a small group of Canadian Bishops.

The Assembly of First Nations, the Métis National Council, the Inuit Tapiriit Kanatami, and other Indigenous leaders have been involved in planning the delegation through ongoing dialogue with the CCCB. Vatican representatives have also confirmed that the Holy Father will take part in private meetings with the First Nations, Inuit and Métis delegates to hear their personal stories of the legacy of the residential schools. There will also be an opportunity for the delegates to share their hopes and expectations for the Holy Father's future pilgrimage to Canada with him directly.

OUR PARISH GOAL is $ 19, 554.00

we have achieved $26,810.00 of our goal.

Thank you to everyone for their continued support both financially and in prayer for the needs of our diocese. This week we continued to make progress toward our diocesan goal, reaching 86% in pledges. In addition, over $56,000 has been pledged toward our Healing and Reconciliation Appeal.

Over $57,000 will be going back to parishes once pledges are fulfilled, much of which will go toward parish projects.

These challenging times make it difficult for many people to help financially. We ask you to continue to pray for the diocese and the many needs that our communities and ministries have.
